

Rev. Mwalimu Kevin Patrick
Executive Director of Common Humanity Mission, INC.

Mr. Patrick knows too often of dealing with feelings of inadequacies. So he also formulated commune training sessions were clients' value in their own common humanity and shares the healthy connection with others. They develop a keen sense of healthy communications develop a keen sense of self management and develop for themselves the creation of business opportunity.

Mr. Patrick in 1998 was the assistant executive director of power place Inc in Washington DC under the leadership of Dr. Steele duties include preparing lessons plans coordinating innovative and creative ideas for instructing students relative to developing their professional and interpersonal coping skills, case managing as well as preparing periodic progress reports.

2006 Mr. Patrick was contracted by the New Center of Renewal under the leadership of Bishop Wells duties included transporting clients to the required destination of one location and the second location duties include consists of intake forms drug screening mediation, administration such as filling out incident reports, and studying behavior patterns clients answering the telephone faxing information also received money from clients and placed it into a deposit box. This facility was in Charles County MD. And the name of it was the fuller transitional house that housed 24 to 26 clients/residents.

Mr. Patrick does have some formal education, he attended Prince Georges Community College courses English 101 102 creative writing Afro American Literature and Psychology 101. He also attended Mable Springs Bible College courses Old and New Testament Survey the Gospels and the Epistles as well as South Eastern University course English Literature in the Diaspora Technical writing. Mr. Patrick also started a young adult ministry at Community Baptist Church in year 1999 as we as spear heading unity in the community that deal with health issues such as diabetes and moral social concerns he brought 5 different denominations together under one roof something he is proud to have spearheaded it was the vision that was given to him in order to demonstrate to the people of the community church unity.

Mr. Patrick also mentor and assist ministers; some who are now pastors of churches such as pastor Laura Adams and Pastor Linda Newman. He is an inspiration to many who has encountered the sincere genuineness of his presence. He also self-published to book of poems food for thought and bright perspective and presently have a manuscript for his next book about his quest for personal socio-economic change an addition he also work with children’s hospital violent youth imitative duties include mentoring and reconciling differences of fathers husbands and child. He is also, a lecture as well such lectures he presented to the African vilage in Baltimore European Cultural Hegemony.

The rise of the Ausar unto a collective consciousness and a family corporate oriented structured community Just recently he gave a lecture on the need for mature social discourse, at the African American Muslim Museum in Washington DC Also he is the author of the appeal the he wrote in 1992 in spirit of David Walker and Henry Highland Garland. Mr. Patrick is expert in the field of engineering manufacturing the facilitation of creative unique of communication. Hence, he considers himself a commonolgist.

Mr. Patrick adheres to the humane commonality of civilized society. CHMINC is in partnership with the United Black Fund as well as with the United Way Federal Campaign. To help aid and assist us in our endeavors are infrastructure it consists of 5 divisions of operation Administration division facilitating division coordination division aggregated division and finally the marketing divisions we hope to filled these divisions as soon as we interview and engage those that are qualified for the positions’ major qualifier is there passion for the work of the mission.

Our mission is to reconnect the disconnected community from with-in independently promoting the maturation process to specific populations through facilitating mature social discourse. As a result of this process clients will become independent thinkers academically inclined for success stable fanciers and practitioners of maturity.

